SOVIET ARK IS READY TO SAIL WITH MANY REDS

Officials Keep Silent As To Number Who Will Be Passengers.

TRAINS SPEEDING EASTWARD
WITH OTHER ALIEN REDS

Predict That More Than
350 Will Be Aboard
Big Vessel.

New York, Dec. 20.—The government steamship Buford, "the soviet ark," is ready to leave New York for Soviet Russia on two hours' notice, it was learned this morning. She will carry on her holiday cruise a greater part of several hundred radicals held for deportation at Ellis Island. Information was withheld concerning the exact hour of sailing, but it was intimated that the craft would weigh anchor tonight or tomorrow.

Many persons considered among the most dangerous of those charged with plotting to overthrow the United States government will be "guests" of this government for the cruise, despite their profession of willingness to pay their own way. Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman's names are the most notable on the passenger list.

At least three "inquiry trains" are bringing additional radicals here from various parts of the country. It was predicted that 350 disciples of violence would be corralled in the Ellis Island detention pens before nightfall. The nation wide roundup for whores and violence is nearing completion federal authorities said.

The movement of the trains is being kept a secret and even the authorities are in the dark as to just when the "red flag specials" will arrive. One was moving slowly from Buffalo to New York who has busied themselves it is charged with spreading seeds of unrest along the Canadian border. Another was due from Pittsburgh with agitators alleged to have advocated sabotage and violence during the recent steel strike.

A third train load from Philadelphia includes agitators charged with attempting to cause a strike in shipyards. In addition to 350 radicals on Ellis Island for whom deportation warrants already have been received, there are 69 more for whom warrants were expected during the day.

There are 350 more outbursts in jail scattered about the country awaiting transportation to New York and thence to Europe. It was said that Harry Weinberger, counsel for Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman today asked Attorney General Palmer that Jacob Abrams, Samuel Lipman, Mollie Steiger and Hyman Lachowsky be deported to Russia instead of being sent to the Atlantic penitentiary for sentences of twenty years for violating the espionage law.

Hundreds of packages of clothing have been sent to the island by friends of the deportees. Among the reds expected at the island before nightfall were 53 from the Hartford, Connecticut county jail.

YOUNGSTOWN SENDS 26 REDS TO RUSSIA

Youngstown, Dec. 20.—Twenty six aliens, all said to be members of the union of Russian workers, were taken from here last night to Ellis Island to await steps toward their deportation. The men, all of whom were steel workers, took with them their savings of nearly $25,000 in cash. They are said to be members of the East Youngstown branch of the Russian Workers, characterized by federal agents as one of the strongest branches of that organization.

WASHINGTON SAYS SHIPS MAY BE DELAYED

Washington, Dec. 20.—The date for the departure from New York of radical aliens ordered deported has not yet been fixed and will not be until additional reports are received concerning the movement to seaboard of some aliens now held at various inland points. Anthony Caminetti, commissioner of immigration said today. Some trains bearing radicals have been expected to leave yesterday, the commissioner said, but they would not get under way until today, while immigration officials at one or two points where aliens are held have asked that the departure be delayed until Monday or Tuesday.

These delays, Mr. Caminetti explained, are due to various causes, chief among which is that some of the aliens have money due them and it is desired to give them a reasonable time in which to collect it. The recent snow storms also have been a contributing cause.

DETROIT SENDS A FEW.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 20.—Sixty alien radicals rounded up in recent raids by department of justice operatives will be sent from here to New York Sunday for deportation to Russia, it was announced this morning. They have been held in the county jail here.

CLEVELAND ADDS 36.

Cleveland, Dec. 20.—Federal authorities announced today that 36 alleged radicals rounded up by department of justice agents in this district recently were sent from New York last night for deportation. Twenty-six were from Youngstown, seven from Akron, and three from Cleveland.

DREXEL HOME BURNS.

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—The Anthony J. Drexel home near here, was destroyed early today by fire. The loss is estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000.

COW'S DYNAMITE DIET COST GOVERNMENT $60

Washington, Dec. 20.—The cow that burned up Chicago, the cow that jumped over the moon, the cow that raised the fattest calf, and the cow that died on the tune—they will have to recognize an addition to their celebrated quartette now.

She's the cow that ate up $60 worth of government dynamite out in Willard, Washington, and made the wheels of congress go around until her owner got $60.

The house paused in its consideration of weightier subjects long enough yesterday to pass the necessary bill. Contributory negligence on the part of the government road builders who left the sticks of dynamite where bossy could eat them, was the verdict.

Strangely enough, it didn't blow up the cow, it only panicked her, but it nearly blew up the house of representatives.

The house evidently enjoyed its little excursion into the field of humor and switched from cows to false teeth. It passed a bill to pay Michael McGarvey $35 for a set he lost while working at the quartermaster's depot, Governor's Island, last July. The government compensation committee had refused his claim but the house was in a compassionate mood and thought otherwise.

FLAMES DAMAGE BROUGHTON HOME

Fire Starts While Water
Pipes are being Thawed
—Loss Estimated at $2,000 By Chief Bausch.

Flames partially destroyed the James Broughton home in Kibler avenue this morning at 9:05 o'clock. Firemen battled with the blaze for more than an hour. The house, a two-story, eight room frame, built by Ralph Broughton and sold to him on Broughton when Brumback entered the army.

The fire started from the thawing out of pipes in the basement leading to the sink. Mrs. Broughton was absent from home when the fire started. Her company, Mrs. Charles Deardurff, first discovered the fire, and saw flames issuing from the corner of the house. She attempted to extinguish them with snow, without success. The fire department was called, the North Line company and squad wagon from Central responding. In the meantime neighbors carried out nearly all the household articles.

The fire crawled up the weather boarding and spread to all parts of the house and then got into the attic. On account of the sheeting, firemen found it difficult to get control, but by use of chemicals and a single fire hose the flames were subdued. A bedroom, bathroom and sewing room on the upper floor were partially destroyed, together with the kitchen and pantry on the lower floor.

The loss is hard to estimate, a part of the contents of the house being damaged by smoke, while the repairs which will be necessary to replace the damaged portion of the house will amount to over $2,000, according to the estimate of Fire Chief Bausch. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

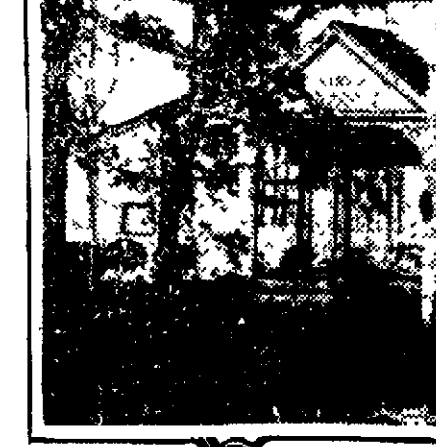

COURT SENDS MOTHER TO INSANE ASYLUM

Atlantic City, Dec. 20.—Judge Ingersoll in the county court yesterday committed Mrs. James M. Blake to the county insane asylum for observation. A board of alienists will observe and report on her sanity.

A court's jury last night returned a verdict that Mrs. Blake "while laboring under a state of mental aberration," had thrown her five year old son into the sea from the Vesper board walk.

After the verdict Mrs. Blake's husband said his wife had been of unsound mind for some years. He added that he would engage counsel and defend her.

WOULD DECLARE STATE OF PEACE WITH GERMANY

Committee O. K.'s Resolution Retaining Benefits
Under Treaty.

WILL SEEK VOTE ON BILL
AFTER HOLDING RECESS

Measure Affirms Nation's Support of Some Plan
For Peace League.

Washington, Dec. 20.—A redrafted resolution by Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania to declare a state of peace with Germany and to retain to the United States all material benefits that would be gained under the unratified treaty of Versailles was approved today by the senate foreign relations committee by a vote of 7 to 3. The measure, on which senate action be sought after the holiday recess is in the form of a joint resolution and would require that unless Germany concedes to the United States such material benefits as are contained in the treaty, commerce with German nationals could be prohibited by presidential proclamation.

The resolution affirms the government's general support of some practical plan for an international peace league. The resolution also would declare in general terms that the United States would continue its close relations with the allies. It was understood to have the support of several Republican leaders who sought to have the committee report it today in order that it might be brought before the senate after the holidays as a basis for settlement of the whole treaty fight. The Democratic members indicated that they would oppose it.

EGYPTIANS IN RIOT POPULATION DISGUSTED

London, Dec. 20.—Serious rioting occurred at Alexandria, Egypt, on Sunday, one Egyptian policeman being killed, according to belated cables from Cairo. This is the first recorded disturbance since the arrival of the British mission headed by Viscount Milner. The operations of this mission, correspondents declare were wrapped in mystery and the people are represented as "being disgusted."

Incident disturbances occurred in Cairo on Monday and Tuesday, especially in the native quarters where tram cars were stoned but the police were successful in preventing serious disorders. A demonstration was carried out there by 250 students on Monday resulting in the arrest of 11 who will be court-martialed. Native lawyers have declared a week's strike as a protest against the arrival of the Milner mission, while 60 per cent of the government employees are said to favor similar action.

Marshfield, Ore., Dec. 20.—Captain A. A. Sawyer, master of the tank steamer J. A. Chansler, quartermaster Kunkle and one other member of the crew are believed to be the only survivors of the steamer, wrecked late Thursday off Cape Blanco.

Captain Sawyer is in the hospital at Bandon in a critical condition as the result of exposure. Bandon, Ore., Dec. 20.—At least 30 lives were lost when the oil tanker J. A. Chansler, bound for Portland from San Francisco, was wrecked off Cape Blanco Thursday night, according to the report of Earl Dooley, member of the crew, who was washed ashore from one of the Chansler life boats near here early today.

Besides Dooley, another unidentified man was saved. According to Dooley, the ship struck a reef at 6:15 o'clock, Thursday night and broke in two in a few minutes afterward, the after part of the vessel sinking, taking 30 men down with it. A score of the crew of 51 were still unaccounted for today. After the vessel broke in two, according to Dooley's account, 10 or 12 of the survivors succeeded in manning life boats, Captain A. W. Sawyer being among them.

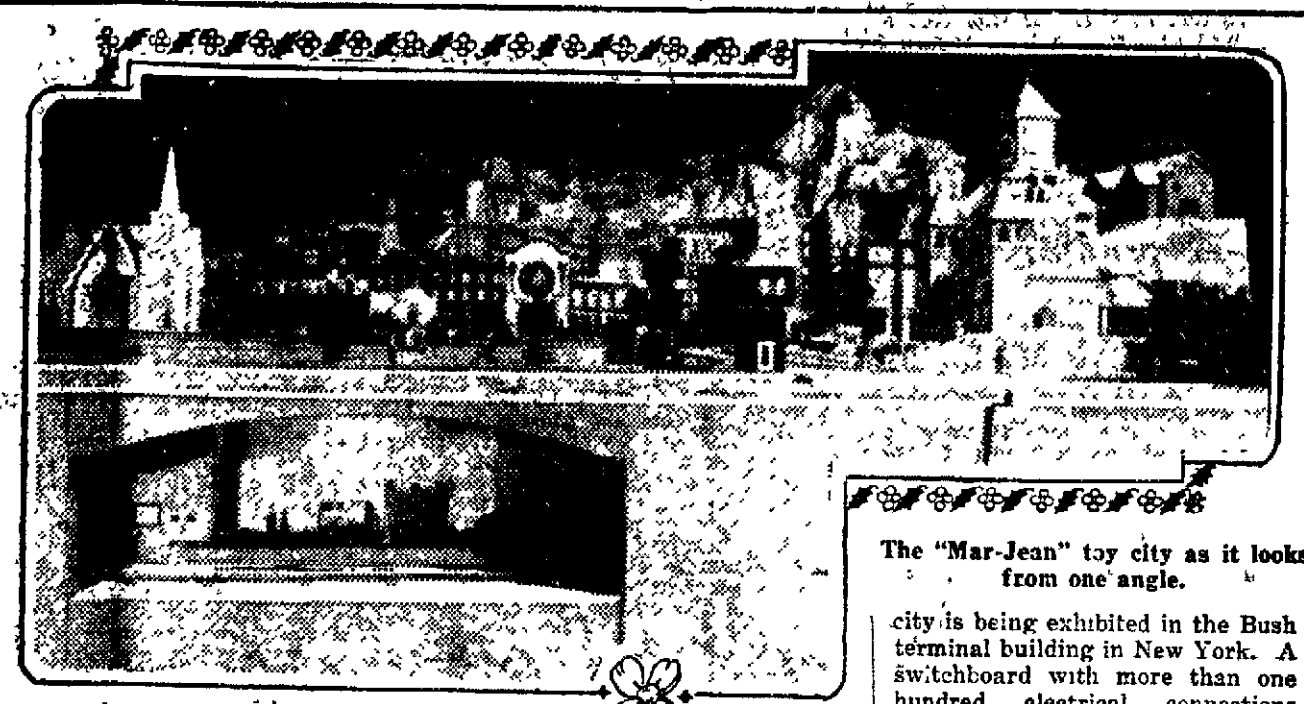

They drifted about all Thursday night and most of yesterday, picking up a seaman who appeared insane when taken from the water. He died shortly afterwards. On attempting to effect a landing near here, Dooley said the boat capsized and he and an unidentified man were the only ones known to have reached shore.

Dooley expressed the opinion, however, that others from the capsized life boat would be found alive along the beach.

TURKEYS FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER HIT HIGHEST PRICE IN HISTORY

Regal Bird Ready For Oven Will Cost 72 Cents Pound—
One Dealer Takes Orders Today at 65 Cents—Eggs Reach 85c Cents.

The price of turkeys for Christmas will be the highest ever quoted in Newark and because of the advance many families have eliminated turkey from the Christmas menu and will use chickens, ducks and geese instead. Turkey this morning to quote turkey time and will be more so for the holiday season, it was said Saturday. The price will be higher by from seven to ten cents on the pound than they were in November. The wholesale dealers paid the farmers 32 cents a pound Thanksgiving and today are paying 41 to 45 cents. The retail price here today is 72 dressed for the oven. One meat and poultry dealer refused flatly this morning to quote turkey prices until after the first of the week. However Columbus retail dealers announced Friday that they expected turkeys to bring 45 and probably 70 cents during the holidays.

Columbus dealers are said to have made turkeys scarce and higher in this county by canvassing part of the county two weeks ago and offering 40 cents when the Newark dealers were paying only 37 cents. Farmers have raised but very few turkeys this year, some having three or four. The highest number kept is about 15 or 20. Few turkeys will be sold on market, most of them only killing orders. One dealer in the Peoples Market who has about 50 for his customers, took orders this morning to furnish dressed turkeys at 65 cents a pound. One wholesale dealer has about 50 or 60 for local dealers. Most of the poultry shipped out has gone to Pittsburgh and other eastern points. Friday wholesale dealers were paying 41 and 42 cents for turkeys, 23 to 25 cents for geese, 22 to 25 for ducks. There will be plenty of chickens all sizes and prices.

Chickens on today's market are selling at from 85 cents to $2.00. Butter is 70 and 75 cents and fresh eggs 75, 80 and 85 which is the highest price paid yet. Short storage eggs or two months are 65 cents a dozen. Rabbits are 50 cents a piece.

The usual winter choice in fruit and vegetables was offered today and prices showed very little change. The first new dates said to have been received in this country in seven years grown in Arabia were selling at 30 cents a pound. Dates that have been on the market have been storage dates. Loose holy is 25 cents a bunch, (Continued on Page 11, Col 3)

OHIO CITIES BOOSTS
STOCK TO 90 MILLIONS

Directors of the Ohio Cities Gas company have decided to increase the company's preferred stock from $10,000,000 to $90,000,000. Stockholders will vote on the action January 29.

The first $10,000,000 will be set aside for exchanging share for share for the present outstanding 5-14 per cent preferred stock. This issue will bear the rate of 6 per cent, as the officers believe that the original owners of the preferred stock to whom so much of the success of the company is due are entitled to be considered. That will leave $70,000,000 additional preferred stock to issue at such times and in such amounts as the company may deem necessary.

BERGER AGAIN ELECTED SOCIALIST CONGRESSMAN

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 20.—Victor L. Berger, socialist, today was again representative-elect from the Fifth congressional district, having defeated Henry H. Bodenstab fusion candidate by a majority of 4866 in yesterday's special election.

The complete unofficial vote compiled today gave Berger 24,387 and Bodenstab, 19,561. In the election of 1918, Berger received a plurality of 5,597 in a three-sided contest, the Republicans and Democrats having candidates in the field. Berger's total in that election was 17,822, while the two opposing candidates together polled 22,544 votes.

Berger was denied a seat in the house of representatives November 10 last, after an investigation by that body into his record during the war following his conviction and sentence of 30 years in a federal penitentiary on the charge of violating the espionage act.

After the result of yesterday's election was known, Berger issued a statement in which he said:

"I don't know whether the house will seat me, and I care little, if only the continued fight for my seat will furnish the occasion to awaken the common people of the United States, especially the working class, to a realization of the great dangers before us and the immense duties that we must fulfill if civilization is to progress or even to survive."

YANKEE LIEUTENANT
KILLED BY FRENCH THUGS

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—Lieutenant John Campbell Cleave, 25 years old, of this city, prominent socially, has been killed in Paris, France, by a band of thugs. He had survived a wound and severe gassing at the front and was awaiting for a boat to bring him home for Christmas. With two companions he was attacked last Sunday night when leaving a concert. He died the following day.

This news was contained in a cable message to his parents and confirmed by another from the United States consul at Paris.

Lieutenant Charles W. Nevin, also of Philadelphia, was shot in the leg in the same attack.

NUTTER-DAMAGE CASE
SETTLED OUT OF COURT

The case of Eva N. Nutter, administrator of the estate of Felix C. Nutter, against Jacob Shrader, in which plaintiff sought to recover $50,000 damages from the defendant, alleging that through his carelessness and negligence Felix Nutter forfeited his life, was settled today by the attorneys of the parties involved. Fitzgerald & Black represented the plaintiff and McDonald & Shubough the defendant. The terms of settlement were not made a part of the record. Nutter, a Newark policeman, was killed May 26, when he alighted from a city street car on Cedar street to signal the motorman of the car before crossing the railroad tracks. Shrader, driving his automobile turning into Cedar street from Indiana street and struck Nutter. He died several hours afterwards at the City Hospital.

NEW HEATING SYSTEM
KEEPS COURTHOUSE WARM

There was plenty of heat in the various offices of the court house today and the officials had no complaint to make as in former years when the thermometer dropped to zero. The heating system was overhauled last fall and new pipes and radiation installed. There are still several of the old radiators that were not made to answer the purpose of the new system and when they are replaced there should be plenty of heat for all purposes.

COMMISSIONERS EXPECT
BIG CROWD AT MEET

The county commissioners are anticipating a large delegation will be present next Tuesday morning to discuss material to be used on the Mt. Vernon road improvement. The commissioners invite all residents along the route to meet with them and state their preference. There are ten miles of road to be built and it is to be completed next year, making 13 miles in all between this city and Utica, three miles having been finished. The meeting is scheduled for 10 o'clock and it is understood that a large delegation will be present from Utica.

Not Allowed to Shake Hands.

Although today we all shake hands on meeting as a matter of course, there was a time when purists held that friends of opposite sexes should not salute one another by shaking hands. In 1828, Sir John Nicholl, giving judgment in an English divorce case, remarked that "conduct highly blameable and distressing to the feelings of a husband had been proved; but although 30 witnesses had been examined, no indecent familiarity beyond kissing had been proved. The shaking of hands when they met was now a practice so frequent between persons of different sexes, however, opinions might differ as to its delicacy, that no unfavorable inference could be deduced therefrom."

Bird Deadly Enemy of Flies.

The Wilson warbler is the champion fly-catcher of the United States. His method of getting most of his food is to dash out from the limb of a tree and snatch passing insects on the wing. He catches other insects which are flitting about or sitting on the foliage or blossoms of the trees. You will often find these little birds in apple trees when in bloom. Their olive green and yellow plumage harmonizes with the green leaves of the trees. The male bird has a black crown patch on the top of its head, while on the female this cap is greenish like the back. This bird is found throughout the eastern United States, but winters in Central America.

Character in the Finger.

The rarest kind of finger is that which is thin at the top joint, spreading outward toward the tip in a comparatively thickened outline. Here we immediately discover elements of refinement, intellect and determination. In addition to strong religious principles. The finger containing well-arched nails leads one to gather the impression of deceit, whereas it is a known fact that the owner of flat nails is self-sacrificing and considerate.

Miss Gail Laughlin.

When the business and professional women from every part of the country met together to form a national organization they probably never realized what rare judgment and foresight they were showing in electing Gail Laughlin president. Miss Laughlin is an easterner by birth, but she has spent most of her life since 1908 in the west. This alone makes her a valuable person for the head of a national organization.

THRIFT WEEK WILL BE TOUCHED ON IN SHOPS

Breaking into the opening series of shop talks is the thrift program in connection with the economic program of the Y. M. C. A.

The activities of the Economic Program, and especially National Thrift Week, are based on a 10-point financial creed. It is called the ten commandments of a man's financial life. Hundreds of thousands of young men will be asked to adopt this creed and put it into practice in their own lives.

The ten points of the financial creed are as follows:

1. Work and earn, to help increase the world's goods and decrease the cost of living.
2. Make a budget, to ascertain how you should dispose of your income.
3. Keep a record of expenditures, to see how close you come to your estimates.
4. Have a bank account, to keep your money in a safe place and help you save.
5. Carry life insurance, to protect your loved ones in case of your death.
6. Make a will, to help insure your resources going quickly to those you desire.
7. Own your own home, to secure the greatest satisfaction in your home life.
8. Pay your bills promptly, to meet the moral obligation you have to your creditors.
9. Invest in government securities, to help your country and to make a wise investment.
10. Share with others, to fulfill your religious duty of stewardship.

Industrial Secretary Grieser does not intend to invade all the factories on all the topics of thrift week but has arranged that each speaker prepare for publication an article on the topic he is interested in besides giving the talk at one factory. The schedule as arranged for the regular series of shop talks will be adhered to and each factory in the itinerary may expect a special speaker on their regular "shop-talk day." Speakers already scheduled are: K. L. Dickerson, E. S. Randolph, Harvey Alexander, Nelson Dodd.

CHRISTMAS CAROLLING.

One of the prettiest old Christmas customs lately revived is the singing of carols about the streets. Last year in Detroit 10,000 carollers went through the snowy streets to sing these splendid old songs.

These old carols appeal alike to the trained musician and to ordinary hearers. They are different from the conventionalized and parlorified music of the present day. They have the force and vigor and power of primitive appeal that comes from the heart of the people. They make the Christmas message seem real and vital and beautiful to the modern world.

Street carol singing should be a regular custom here in Newark. It is the prettiest possible introduction to the holiday festivities. For several years there was a community Christmas tree with appropriate ceremony in the court house park. It is too late to revive the custom this year?

OHIO AND COAL STRIKE.

Settlement of the coal strike was not impeded any by the Ohio action in which Governor Cox got operators and miners into agreement to return to work.

As soon as the news of the Ohio agreement was flashed over the nation, an attempt was made to settle the strike on a national basis. Naturally Governor Cox called off negotiations in Ohio, in the interest of nationwide settlement.

The situation in the nation had become critical. Resumption of mining in Ohio's great field would have done much to keep industry supplied and to prevent great suffering not only in Ohio but in many other states as well.

The action of Governor Cox and the success that attended it has received widespread praise, in and out of Ohio for it doubtless made it possible for national leaders on both sides of the question to get together on a common basis, something they had not been able to do up to that time.

The action of the governor, however, was notice to the nation that Ohio will be able to settle its difficult cases even if it is impossible in other parts of the country.

"Do you have a community house in your town?" some one asked a visitor to Newark the other day. "Sure" was the reply "And all the cells have spring beds and the prisoners can seat chairs for the whole county."

The movement for community kitchens makes some progress and anywhere the women who cook doughnuts find that the children of the neighborhood favor a community party.

Now that congress has investigated everything, it is proceeding to investigate the investigators. Then by and by the people will proceed to investigate congress.

Paper profiteers think the power of the newspaper press can be defied. Might ask the politicians how they came out when they worked on that theory.

Case reported of the man who drank a portion of "home brew" and immediately rang in a fire alarm. In most cases they call for the ambulance.

Mr. Hoover says food prices will "soon" come down. Also many debtors say they are going to pay up "soon."

Many newspapers are publishing "Hints to Motorists." Most useful hint to a lot of 'em would be about $100 and costs.

GERMANY IS WORKING.

Very contradictory news is coming out of Germany. Many prominent business men and newspaper correspondents report that the country is in a very bad way, with a bolshevist revolution likely to break loose any moment. Other reports have had it that the German wage earners are voluntarily working longer hours, realizing that only by work can they escape their difficulties.

The statement of Herr Schmidt, German minister of food and economics, would seem authoritative. He says that the German economic condition has improved to an astonishing extent recently.

Workers have returned to their tasks far more than seemed possible last summer. He cited statistics showing that production is now close to the pre-war basis.

This is a remarkable showing. It reveals the tremendous power of the German people and their capacity for taking punishment. The other people must get busy and increase production, or they will be left behind.

THE HARDING CANDIDACY.

(New York Times)

With the deliberation and gravity with which a veil is removed from a public statue the figure of the old guard's candidate for the presidency is gradually disclosed, and it is not until Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, it is Mr. Harding's fate to be the old guard's candidate until it becomes evident that he is not going to be nominated because among other possible reasons the people do not display sufficient enthusiasm. The same thing happened to him in 1916. If memory serves, he remained the old guard candidate until as late as February 10, 1916.

There the unaccountable childlessness of the public was observed by the old guard, and it looked elsewhere for a candidate.

The Lowden candidacy seemed to be doing well until the late Republican doings in Washington. There it seemed to strike an obstacle, the nature of which has not yet been revealed. Mr. Polinder is doing well in the state of Wisconsin, but Mr. Johnson does not seem to be making any progress, although he himself announces that he is going to enter the contest. The situation encourages flocks of favorite sons, and the first of these is Mr. Harding.

Not only the situation but the old guard encourages these fauna of our politics, for the more stars there are which are tied up to favorite sons, the more the nomination will be the chance to make combinations for the candidate when the time comes and the little booms wither; and the real candidate of the old guard is obviously, at present, Mr. Harding.

The program of the political mind is queer. It should be obvious that this is not the time for the nomination of a candidate for whom the slogan is, "No one can say anything against him." Especially for the nomination of a candidate bearing distinctly the brands and earmarks of the old guard. The old guard, however, never considers such matters. Its question is not "Can he be elected?" but "Can he be nominated?" Year in and year out its question is, "Does he suit us?" That question, with the supplementary one, "Are there any black spots in his record?" is asked and answered satisfactorily, the old guard proceeds merrily on its way to nominate him.

NEW POLITICAL PARTIES.

(Ohio State Journal)

The conclusion of J. Hamilton Lewis is that five political parties will be in the 1920 political campaign and his dates for the presidency. The former senator from Illinois is entitled to his opinion. He says the Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Labor and Liberal parties will be the competitors. Evidence is multiplying that many voters are away from the lines of the two old parties. Some will come back to the "mainstream" and others will go to the "new parties." If a new party is to stand the test of time and history, or to have a real chance of success, it must have a program of work, not only in the present but in the future. The new party must have a program of work, not only in the present but in the future. The new party must have a program of work, not only in the present but in the future.

Periodically the independent spirit of the land develops along the line of new party organization, but for a long period of years new parties, as proposed, were speedily broken up. If a new party has an idea of governmental, social or economic value, one of the old parties usually adopts it and the need for a new party diminishes or disappears. If history of the past is a good guide, we may see in the future the new party arise and then disappear.

QUAKER QUIPS.

(Philadelphia Record)

The motto of the Quakers seems to be "Work not that ye be not worked." You never can tell. A woman may be a perfect cat and still be afraid of a mouse.

We are apt to love a man for the enemies he has made, if they happen to be ours, too.

The fellow who is always waiting for something to turn up might marry a girl with a long nose.

Nell—"He tried to kiss me. I'm terribly disappointed in him." Belle—"He didn't succeed, eh?"

At any rate, there is one remarkable good thing about an exotist, and that is his own opinion. He's crazy about playing the market. The poor woman literally feeds on the stock ticker. "Joax—"A tape what?"

Mr. Saphro—"How would you like to have a little puppy of your very own?" Miss Cautique—"Oh, Mr. Saphro, heddle, this is so sudden."

In the matter of prodding says the cynic government "a woman with a sharp elbow is more to be desired than one with a sharp tongue."

Wigg—"It is really wonderful what changes can take place in a short space of time." Wagg—"That's right." For instance, in two days tomorrow will be yesterday.

Tommy—"Pop, what do we mean when we say that people are grasping?" Tommy's Pop—"We mean, my son, that they have just taken something we were going to take ourselves."

"Money makes the mare go," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes, but it's quite an automobile on a six-horsepower salary," replied the Simple Mug.

AMERICA WON THE WAR.

(New York Herald)

General Pershing's final report as commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Force in Europe conclusively proves that America won the war of 1914-1918. Gen. Pershing does not hesitate to generously give the allied and convincingly proves that when the American forces entered the war in 1917 the resources in man power of the allies were greatly below those of the central powers, and the allied morale had been terribly shaken.

When Field Marshal Haig made his report of the achievements of the British army in France he made only casual mention of the assistance given the British by the Americans. Gen. Pershing's story magnanimously gives the British the credit which belongs to them, yet accords to the Americans their true place in the history of that memorable period.

Gen. Pershing tells of the famous allied conference at Versailles in June, 1918, to decide how to avert a complete disaster and the decision to appeal to America. In this famous appeal, says Gen. Pershing, "I do not pretend that it is impossible to force ultimate victory unless America is able to provide an army that will enable the allies ultimately to establish a numerical superiority."

There is no going behind these facts—these admissions. Had it not been for the Americans, it is the testimony of the allies and their military leader, the war would have been lost. America will read this report of Gen. Pershing with added interest and pleasure because Field Marshal Haig saw fit to minimize the importance of the American forces in the great struggle. Nevertheless, Gen. Pershing does not conceal the great fact that there is glory enough for all.

GERMANY AND MEXICO.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

The discovery that Carranza agents had been purchasing arms in Belgium and Spain is now supplemented by information that Germany has been endeavoring to smuggle machine guns to the Mexican chieftain. "Smuggle" is the correct word in this instance. The exportation of war material by Germany is a violation of the armistice and peace treaty. The arms are reported to have been held up in Holland, through which they were sent to Mexico. The German firm considered the transaction merely as a good stroke of business. The German-Mexican matters, however, there is a suspicion of German desire to injure or imperil the United States. Carranza has enough guns for Mexico's domestic needs. His frenzy to get more and more arms from Europe indicates a preparation for extra-Mexican hostilities. The failure of the German government to prevent the export may indicate inefficiency or it may indicate a solicitude to aid Carranza in whatever project he may have in mind.

Both Germany and Mexico must be watched. Both hate the United States; both are perfidious. Germany can be kept comparatively behind her back by the exercise of vigilance. Mexico's harmlessness is measured by her impotence. The two are fit partners, but for practical reasons the world in general and the United States in particular cannot permit the partnership to get on a working basis.

THE BIGGEST CORPORATION.

(Columbus Dispatch)

We in this country suppose that we have some pretty fair-sized corporations; the biggest of us have been supposing all along that we had the biggest corporation in the world. But, nothing of the kind! Here comes an article concerning a Japanese corporation that causes our own great aggregations or associations of capital to seem small by comparison.

The Japanese corporation is called the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha. It comes as nearly dealing in everything as any corporation in the world. It imports and exports and sells and buys and manufactures and everything in between. It owns railroads and steamships and mills and mines and farms and banks and stores and hotels. For a long time it has been in every country under the sun and has employees that speak every language.

The main offices of the corporation are like a great international court, with branches in every major city, familiar with the people of all nations and reporting from the four corners of the earth pour into the general managers daily.

All of which is here mentioned simply to call attention to the fact that we do not possess of this sort of corporation a copyright of organization nor a patent of greatness.

Spirit of the Press

Yes, the city suffers a distinct loss in the deaths of these two good men, (Col. E. S. Wilson and E. O. Randall). Journalism is poorer since the passing of Colonel Wilson. And the state of Ohio will seek in vain for a more able historian or conscientious official than Mr. Randall.—Columbus Citizen.

The Farmers and Labor. The American Federation of Labor recently invited representatives of all the agricultural organizations to attend its labor conference in Washington, but with practical unanimity, all of them declined. Higher wages and shorter hours in industry mean higher wages and longer hours for the farmer, and he knows it. The agricultural areas of the country do not make as much noise as the industrial centers, but they can muster about 50 per cent of the country's voting strength when election day comes around. They already constitute the country's "one big union," and their interests do not at all coincide with those which are being set forth as the interests of labor in general.—Boston Herald.

Saves at the Spigot, Too. The saved hours of work caused by the coal shortage are bound to result in a decrease of production. Therefore, from the working of purely natural causes we are likely to see prices of goods in general shooting up still higher. There will be profiteers to take advantage of the high prices, and a sermon on it that will drive their hearers to desperation. The circumstances will give them an inch, and they will stretch it to a mile. This tendency toward a general strike, under present government powers, is possible. Otherwise the good work of keeping the lid on coal prices at the cost of a chicken settlement will mostly be undone. We shall lose at the spigot all we have saved at the bung-hole.—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Accomplished. Now, Gerald, I hope you are not going to marry a mere parlor ornament. In other words, I hope the girl you have selected is a girl who can do something.—Stray Stories.

She's that, all right. Why, that girl can roll a cigarette better than I can.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT FOR CHRISTMAS

BY KING W. LARDNER.

To the Editor of the Advocate:

Notes of thanks has been pouring in from ladies that read last week's letter in these cols. In which I give them the solution of 1 of the big problems of the title but it seems like people is seldom if never satisfied. For instance, yesterday's mail brought a note from a lady named Anxious that reads like the following:

"Dear sir, I seen your letter in the paper where you give such good advice to wives in regards to what to slip their husbands for xmas and as had a dime left I took advantage of your suggestion and bought Mr. A a book called Court Plaster. But my husband is 1 of those kind of men that no matter what you do for him he sneers you and acts like he was bored stiff and every xmas night he says well thank god another xmas is gone as they are all alike, the following:

We Have a Boy and He is His Father's Idle.

same old bunk and etc. and bore a man to death. He puts up a line of talk that knocks my xmas cheer for a permanent goal. We have 1 child a boy 5 yrs of age and he is his father's idle and that is the only thing about xmas that is different and one that he can't leave me to do all the buying. If you can send any suggestions in regards to how to give my husband a xmas that is different and one that he can't say is just like other xmas and act bored why I will be under deep obligations to yours sincerely Anxious."

As they may be other ladies in the same boat with this dear old boy, maybe I would better make my reply in the form of an open letter and kill both birds at once as they say.

If I was the lady in question I would go to work in the theory that the way to a man's heart is through their stomach and their children and start in with the children. In the last place when the husband comes home xmas eve have the parlor door shut and locked and tell both he and the boy that they mustn't go in there till tomorrow morning as the tree is in there. When the kid has been put to bed excuse yourself to your husband and tell him you have got a hundred things to do such like hanging up the kid's stocking and so forth.

The last thing xmas morning you and Mr. A go in the kid's room and tell him its time to get up and look in his stocking and see what Santa has brought him. The stocking is there all right but its empty but neither the kid or the father knows that and that is surprise No. 1. You - I'll bust your sides laughing to see their faces when the kid finds out they's nothing in the stocking.

When you get down stairs your husband will probably give you your present, say a silver nurse or a real muff or something and that is your cue to act like you was trying not to laugh and then say, "Well I suppose I can change it" and the pretend like you could bite your tongue off for letting that remark slip out.

After breakfast you say "Now we will look at the tree" and you throw open the parlor door and sure enough there's a tree in there but its nothing but just a shoe tree drest like Apphroditie. This is surprise No. 2 and along about this time the son is libel to say where is the presents. "Well, you reply I know your father don't care nothing about getting any and as for you you are getting too old for toys and your too young to read books so I just naturally put you up." This is pretty sure to get a rise out of the boy and maybe even give a thrill to his dada.

I forgot to mention that when you get up don't put on no holiday attire, but wear the oldest xmas you got and right after you have showed them the shoe tree make a announcement that you have chose this morning to give the house a thorough cleaning and if you have a maid tell her to scrub the floors and etc. If the old boy don't seem to like it tell him your sorry but you have got to have the house clean as they say xmas eve cleaning. This is surprise No. 3 and its still more so yet when you tell him who the company is, which is a middle age couple that you only met once or twice and your husband has took a sudden fancy against them.

Well finely the company comes and it gets to be about 2 in the afternoon and finely Mr. A calls you out of the room and says what's the matter with the supper put on or else give him maybe I would better make my reply would give them a menu something like as follows.

Cold shaw
Powder sugar Loaf sugar
Pepper and salt
Junket Ice tea

Water

Right after the meal the company is pretty libel to get up and go home and as the kid rose so early to look in his stocking he will be pretty well worn out and ready for bed and then comes the sweetest hour of all when the husband and wife is alone together and looks back over the day's festivities.

"Well" you wisper "did you have a nice xmas or was you bored?" "She" your mouth, he will explain but next xmas he will see that things is ran on conventional lines like it should be.

Married Strangers

XXX.—The Beginning of The Trip.

"Off at last," Bennett breathed a sigh of relief as the train glided out of the terminal.

"I swear I'm a wreck, Keitha, after the storm and stress of farewells. And those last two dinner dances—ye gods! Why do people fete you like that when you're going away for a few weeks so you won't ever come back?"

Keitha smiled, as she tucked a cushion comfortably behind her back.

"I thought you were keen about society?"

Bennett groaned.

"Don't ever mention the word to me again."

"Wouldn't it be nice if one could dismiss all unpleasant things by just not talking about them?" mused Keitha.

"Well, you're rather a neat little side-splitter," commented Bennett with a grin. "What say, Keitha, to starting all over again? Let's pretend this is the continuance of our damnably short honeymoon."

Keitha colored and averted her eyes to the city where the scattered lights of the city's outskirts flashed by in the dusk.

"I'm afraid it's too late for make-believe, she answered evenly.

"He leaned forward, searching her face in the gloom.

"Why do you always avoid any reference to our romance?" he asked.

Keitha shook her head.

"It hasn't been a success in your opinion, eh, Keitha?"

"Do you think it has—in yours?" she parried.

"He frowned thoughtfully.

"I may be a rank egotist, but I think you're at fault, Keitha, with your infernal indifference."

"Indifference?" echoed Keitha, "O, how amusing."

"What is amusing?"

"The blindness of men," she returned lightly. "Of course you think you've been treated abominably, don't you?"

"I can't say I think I've been greeted with great enthusiasm," he said sulkily.

"I'm sorry, I've done the best I could."

Bennett laughed shortly.

"No need to discuss the matter further then. If your manner has been indicative of your regard for me, I know just where I stand. Somehow, I had rather hoped you might be only a bit frightened at having a stranger come and claim you. For after all, that's what we are to each other—married strangers. We didn't have time to get acquainted before marriage and it seems a bit difficult to catch up with convention now."

"I'm glad you see it that way at last, Lester," said Keitha gratefully.

He rose.

"Are you?" he asked coolly. "A hell of a lot of good it does me."

When he was away, Keitha bit her lip, staring out of the window, where only her own reflection was visible on the pane in the swift-falling darkness.

There was a soft rustle of silk in the aisle beside her and a whiff of an indefinable fragrance.

"Keitha! Is it really you?"

Keitha turned with a start.

A pretty young woman in heaviest winter dress was extending both hands in greeting.

"Marcia," cried Keitha delightedly. "You don't mean to say you're going West too?"

"To California to visit my—my late husband's family," replied Marcia Holmes.

Did You Know

That Elizabethan architecture is a term applied to the mixed style which sprang up on the decline of the Gothic architecture? It is chiefly exemplified by mansions erected for the nobility during the reign of Elizabeth and James I, and originated in the first attempt to revive classic architecture. Influenced, no doubt, by Holbein, who was patronized by Henry VIII, and furnished several designs in this style. The vast dimensions of the depictions, the extreme length of the galleries, and enormous square windows, are the leading characteristics of this style. The ornaments both inside and out were cumbersome; and the cornices and ceilings were exceedingly heavy.

Our Boys and Girls

Milk for small children and young babies should always be pasteurized and it can be done at home in this manner. To properly pasteurize milk put a gallon of water over the fire in a clean pan or kettle. When the water is boiling hard, take the kettle from the fire and allow it to stand on the table for ten minutes uncovered.

Then put into it the filled and corked nursing bottles and leave them for half an hour, covering the kettle meanwhile with a blanket or heavy cloth. At the end of half an hour, remove the bottles and cool them as quickly as possible to fifty degrees and then place them where they will keep cool until they are needed.

When it is time to feed the baby, take out a bottle and set it in a dish of hot water over the fire to heat. Never heat the milk in an open saucepan, that is don't turn it out of the nursing bottle. After the baby has finished, the bottle should be rinsed and filled with cold water. At some convenient time of the day the mother will wash all the bottles with hot water and soap, using a bottle brush to clean the inside of them. She should then rinse them and boil them in a pan of water until they are sweet and clean. The nipples should have the same care.

Milady's Boudoir

Winter Weather Chaps.
Chapped lips seem to be a chronic disorder in this season. One scale of the cuticle peeling off to make way for another, becomes so usual that the victim often fails to notice it. Cracks upon the lips are apt to be deep and sore, bleeding slightly every day. Cracks upon the hands seem to appear without any apparent cause. A fissure opening in the skin crosswise of the muscles, gapes open, remaining this way for sometime, leaving a rough, red, painful ridge.

Both chapped hands and lips make one so unattractive, painful and wholly uncomfortable that it is a wonder why folks endure them. As a rule they both are the result of neglect and carelessness. A few moments spent each night in rubbing the hands with some soft cold cream will keep them soft and natural in appearance, shape and color, even in the coldest weather.

The cause of such troubles is not far to seek when it is realized that chapped hands and lips nearly always manifest themselves after a period of intense cold, and when care has not been taken to keep the lips and hands dry when out of doors. Moisture, gathering on the veil, a careless habit of touching the lips with the tongue, both of these will almost instantly produce chapped lips.

For both chapped hands and lips an old fashioned remedy, recommended by our grandmothers, was nothing more or less than mutton suet. A small piece, purchased from the butcher, and cut fine, is slowly poured into a cup. When it is hardened the cake is taken out and kept in a convenient jar on the dressing table for use night and morning, which practice will surely prevent the ills and annoyance from chapped lips and hands.

Use of the Toothbrush.
A good toothbrush, if used conscientiously, should not be kept more than two weeks at a time. Several brushes should be kept and let one be drying and resting while the other is being used. To keep the teeth white and perfect, the toothbrush should be received as much care as does the hair brush or clothes brush.

It never pays to buy too cheap a toothbrush. If the price is at the expense of the bristles, in the first place a poor set of bristles will not do their work well, and loosely fastened bristles are very dangerous if they should slip down into the throat, where they may catch and destroy or penetrate the walls of the digestive tract.

Always wash the brush after each application and, by the way, a new brush should always be soaked in a weak solution of bicarbonate of soda for two hours, both to disinfect it from the shop handling and to set the bristles.

The teeth should be brushed at night, after each meal and upon arising in the morning. The night cleaning is so that the food particles may not remain in the teeth crevices to decay at night, when the mouth saliva is not active as it is in the daytime.

During long illness the teeth should be carefully cleaned when they cannot receive attention from a dentist. If this were carefully done fewer teeth troubles would be laid to the invalid's ailment, which is, often, not as much to blame as neglect of the teeth.

ONE-FOURTH WORLD'S WOMEN IN CHINA

Seventy Per Cent. Employees in Shanghai Cotton Mills Women and Children Working Twelve Hour Shifts.

One-fourth of the women in the world are Chinese—200,000,000 of them. They are going into industry in large numbers to work long hours and for little money.

In Shanghai, for instance, seventy per cent. of the employees in the cotton mills are women and children. Working hours for spinners are from six in the morning until six at night and from six at night until six in the morning. Weavers work from 5:30 in the morning until seven at night and the wages are from ten to twenty cents a day. Hundreds of women are employed in silk flature mills, standing hour after hour washing cocoons in basins of boiling water in the excessively hot rooms necessary for apartments where fine silk is spun. In Canton alone, there are 150,000 women in factories at a maximum wage of forty cents a day for women and of fifteen cents a day for girls.

As part of its program of world service for women the National Young Women's Christian Association is expecting to put on its staff of secretaries in China an expert on industrial conditions who will develop social work in factories, and work to improve conditions for women employees. This work will include the introduction of recreation and social life among the workers and of health lectures and educational classes.

Y. W. C. A. STUDENTS TEACHING IN CHINA

Physical Training School Maintained in Shanghai.

The vast majority of Chinese men remember their mothers as cripples. Many a girl wanders into a mission school who has not had her own feet bound, but has never seen a woman of her own class who could walk, and, therefore, she walks in a most ungainly fashion—scarcely conscious of her natural feet.

The Chinese Medical Association—an Association composed only of Chinese physicians mostly graduates from American and English institutions—have asked the entire educated community of the country to co-operate in better health for the children of China. All the Mission Boards operating in China felt that one of the greatest contributions the Young Women's Christian Association could offer to the health of China would be to establish a normal school for the training of physical directors.

Accordingly, in Shanghai, which is the greatest port in China, the national committee established such a school in 1914. The school has won favor with all educationists, both missionary and government. There have already been nine graduates from this school. Miss Ying Mei Chun, a graduate of the Wellesley School of Physical Education, has been dean of the school. Graduates of the school are scattered from Canton to Peking, teaching with conspicuous success in twelve mission and government schools.

There are approximately 500 women physicians in Japan now, she says, and 400 women medical students. Dr. Inouye was the only delegate from Japan to the Y. W. C. A. International Conference of Women Physicians, in session during September and October.

PROBABLE PROFITS

The capacity of present buildings of the company will be 1000 tires daily. To give an idea of the earning possibilities, suppose the company is making only—500 tires a day with an average profit of $5.00 per tire. Figuring 300 working days, they will produce 150,000 tires per year.

Which amounts to a gross earning of $750,000.00. Deducting $45,000.00 from the earnings to pay dividends on the preferred stock, it would leave a handsome earning for the common stock.

The preferred stock means the stockholders' security. The common stock represents the stockholders' earning possibilities. Factory and books of the company are open for stockholders' inspection. Common stock is now being secured as a bonus by purchasers of preferred. This stock may be bought in cash or partial payments. We invite you to visit Port Clinton and see our property. Shortly thereafter Joy packs up her belongings to return to the East, when her home is entered by one of the gang, Mamon, whom she drives away at the point of a gun. Mamon then informs the gang that they can do a little cattle rustling. Joy comes to town, and is met by Stute and Belows, who try to force them to drink with them. Her "High Pockets" recognizes her from her photograph and takes her to a respectable hotel across the street. But when she is alone in her room Mamon tries to reach her by jumping from an upper porch to her window ledge. He is seen by "High Pockets," who throws a lariat about him and brings him down to earth. "High Pockets" then believes he knows who the murderers are and asks Joy to remain in town awhile, securing a position for her at the general store. Jim Stute and his followers, seeing "High Pockets" interfering with their plans, claim they he is Blythe's murderer and try to arrest him. But the marshal gets the drop on the sheriff and his aides, and marches the bunch to the sheriff's office and imprisons them.

The screenings tomorrow are continuous.

"A Virtuous Vamp."

Gwendolyn's vamping career began when she was two years old, when she induced a member of the San Francisco fire department to kiss her as a reward for saving the lives of herself and family.

As Gwen blossomed into girlhood her name lengthened into Gwendolyn Diana Deoufort Armitage, daughter of one of the most fashionable families in the United States.

However, the finance of the family were considerably strained by tremendous losses in San Francisco. Thus it is deemed good business on the part of the family to let Gwen attend a business college which teaches a short-cut to short hand.

To the surprise of all, Gwendolyn really learns how to govern an ordinary typewriter.

Soon she fills her purse with letters of recommendation, and sallies forth to the office of James Crowinshield, an insurance man. Because a youth ahead of her fails to get a position with letters of recommendation from society people, Gwendolyn gulps down a lump of mortification, and states that she is plain Nellie Jones and that she has no recommendation other than her ability.

Gwendolyn, alias Nellie gets the job. Although her work is more than satisfactory, Gwendolyn's captivating smile proves a demoralizing influence for every branch of the Crowinshield insurance office. She is transferred from job to job and finally she lands in the office of Mr. Crowinshield himself, who is disgusted with his clerks and subordinates for having succumbed to the wiles of the innocent Nellie.

"What's the matter with you fellows?" he asked. "This little girl never had an evil thought in her life."

"Just wait until she smiles at you."

It is fought in the mountain district, in the old feudal style, men hiding behind rocks and bushes, firing where they saw a head exposed, or suspected that someone was lurking. Naturally no bullets were used when men fired point blank at each other, but they were used on occasion and the chips from rocks are seen flying where the bullets strike just above the men's heads.

The Alhambra Monday and Tuesday offers Clara Kimball Young and her own company in a Select Pictures Corp. feature, "The Road Through the Dark," by production, "The World and Its Women," which is scheduled for presentation at the Alhambra theater Wednesday and Thursday.

The picture was written by Thompson Buchanan, the author of such sterling plays as "A Woman's Way," "The Cub," "Judith Triumphant" and "The Intruder." The massiveness of the settings demanded a director schooled in the production of mammoth photoplays; and duced by Herbert M. Dawley. Those giant monsters of the past are seen to breathe, to live again, to move and to battle as they did at dawn of life.

LYRIC.
Manager Harry Elden of the Lyric theater is offering one of the best moving pictures tomorrow afternoon and evening, that has ever been shown in this city, entitled "Hitting the Trail," featuring Carole Blackwell and Evelyn Greeland, two well-known and capable stars. In addition there will be a special concert rendered by Gilbert's own company.
All next week: the Warren's Virginia only the beauties of life are shown. Gem next Monday and Tuesday.

GRAND.
This afternoon and evening there is being shown at the Grand theater the usual high class brand of moving pictures that are exhibited each Saturday. First and foremost is Billy Duncan in

"THE WEB OF CHANCE"—WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTIONS

Smashing Barriers, a thrilling story all the way. The comedy features are Larry Selmon in "Dew Drop Inn," which is a two-reel comedy classic and the third feature is Harry Pollard in "All at Sea." Mr. Pollard is the former assistant of Harold Lloyd.
Sunday and Monday William Russell, supported by an all-star cast, will present "Six Feet Four," a super picture, telling a story of the far west before the days of law and order. The second feature is George E. Seetz and Marguerite Courtot in "Bound and Gagged," a story of adventure, and last but not least is Fatty Arbuckle in "Fatty's Wedding Day." Especial arrangements for best heating the theater have been made, so comfort is assured. The performances are continuous each day, from 1 p. m. to 11 p. m.

Temptation argues the right of a child to be born well. Inside Facts

It's what's inside your battery that makes it live long or wear out quickly.

Inferior insulation wears out before the plates do, and re-insulation is necessary.

Threaded Rubber Insulation eliminates the need of re-insulation, makes a battery last much longer under equal conditions, and reduces the liability to any other kind of repairs.

It's the one biggest battery improvement in ten years—demonstrated now by four years of use.

You can't afford not to know about it, for some day you'll need a new battery.

WOMEN EXCEED MEN IN JAPANESE FACTORIES

850,000 Japanese Women Work at Average Daily Wage of Ten to Twenty Cents for a Twelve Hour Day.

There are more women in industry in Japan than there are men, according to a statement recently made by the War Work Council of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The world war has brought 850,000 women and girls into the daily grind of industry according to this statement; 30,000 of them little girls under fifteen years of age who work twelve hours at a wage of ten to twenty cents a day, that the world may have silk dresses and munitions.

In Tokyo alone, a city of two and one-half million people, there are 100,000 women employed in sixty-two industries and businesses varying from work as telephone operators, clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers to work in silk and other sorts of factories and domestic work.

Each year thousands of these women go back to their homes in the country, broken in health and victims of tuberculosis because of the poor conditions under which they work and live. They are housed in dormitories in the factory compound. These dormitories are frequently unsanitary. The girls work long hours, have no recreation and on finishing their long day go immediately to bed, oftentimes a bed which a girl who works at night has been sleeping in all day.

As part of its world service for women, the Young Women's Christian Association plans to build dormitories in manufacturing towns where girls may live cheaply under healthful physical and social conditions, to send out secretaries who can introduce recreation into the factory compound and direct games and social life.

This is done with the co-operation of the factories' managers and proprietors. One of the most influential of these is Mrs. Suzuki, the most prominent woman manufacturer in Japan, who is owner and manager of a firm which exported $11,000,000 worth of bean oil to America last year.

Recently Mrs. Suzuki decided to employ one thousand women in her offices. She could not find enough well trained ones so she established a permanent school where Japanese girls may be trained to enter the business world. The greatest danger ahead of Japan, she says, is in its growing materialism, and Japan's greatest need, the development of her women.

NATIONAL FRIENDSHIPS DEPEND UPON WOMANKIND

Japanese Diplomat Says Men Alone Cannot Create International Friendliness.

International friendship between nations depends largely upon the friendly feeling between the women of those nations, according to representatives of the Japanese embassy in Washington.

Their theory is that there can be no firm friendship between two nations unless the women of those two countries know and like one another, as co-operation between nations, as in the state and in the family, is based on co-operation between men and women.

Therefore, if Japan and America are to have a real, lasting friendship, to really know and understand one another, the women of the two nations must learn to play together, to study together and to think together.

The Y. W. C. A. is one of the best mediums for bringing about this friendship between the two nations, according to diplomatic representatives of Japan, as that organization is teaching Japanese women recreation, showing them how to enjoy out-of-door life and sports. It is particularly necessary that Japanese women learn to enjoy and appreciate recreation, they say, since the great influx of women into industry and business, as Japanese women, formerly so conservative, are going into business and doing many things which they had never thought of doing before the war.

The Y. W. C. A. has been assured the fullest possible co-operation of the Japanese embassy and the Japanese people in making its "World Service program" for three million dollars to be used for women and girls in the United States, India, China, Japan, South America, Egypt, Siberia, the Near East and Mexico a success.

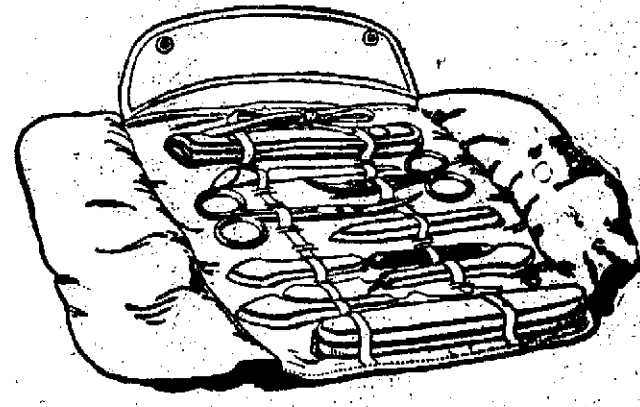

Y. W. C. A. TRAINS WOMEN.

Young women students from forty-four states and nine countries—China, the Philippine Islands, France, Bulgaria, Holland, Russia, Armenia, Canada and Mexico—are registered in the National Training School of the Young Women's Christian Association in New York.

They are studying methods of Y. W. C. A. work with a view to taking up positions in Y. W. C. A. work either in this country or in other of the countries where the Y. W. C. A. is carrying on, opening and expanding its work.

The Zanesville Boxing club will stage an exhibition on Christmas afternoon and many of the local fans no doubt will attend. The main bout will be between Tommy (Beagle) of Muskegon, Ind. and Joe Hardy of Cincinnati, lightweights, who will endeavor to go the limit of ten rounds. The semi-final will be between Young Cal Brown vs. Johnny Howard, Cleveland, featherweight, who have been matched for six rounds. The preliminary will be an old fashioned battle royal between five colored boxers. Zanesville fans are backing up the boxing game and the sport packs the big auditorium at every exhibition staged by the club.

BOWLING

The Zanesville bowlers arrived late and very cold last night and the local boys had little trouble in winning. After the frost had cleared away and the Clay City boys looked at the score, Newark was to the good by 203 pins. ANNOUNCEMENT.

Why is it that the Newark people have never in the past years been invited to visit the candy shops to see the candies they are and have been eating? Why do the candy merchants keep the door closed and invite no one to their candy room?

Is it or was there too much draft? No. Is it or was there dust blowing in? No.

Was it for fear flies would get in? No.

He keeps the door closed in order that his customers may not get sight of his shop.

And why doesn't he want his customers to see his shop?

Is it or was it because he has some new tools? No.

Is it or was it because he is making a line of goods that no one else on earth can make? No.

Is it or was it because he doesn't or didn't want his customers to know that he makes his own candies? Well I should say not.

He wants the door kept closed so his customers can not see the filthy condition of his shop.

Because he didn't or don't want his customers to see his candy makers or his helpers working around half naked or with what little they did have on would stare at them if taken off.

Because he is and was afraid he will lose his customers if they saw what he didn't want them to see.

How can such candy shops make the so-called Purest and Best Candies Obtainable at any price? Today people can not believe all they hear, but, seeing is believing.

Our shop has always been and always shall be open to every one. Everyone is invited to our candy shop to see where the candies are made and to see them made before you buy.

Don't stop eating candy, but do see how the candies you eat are made.

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION ENDED

Suffered So He Couldn't Work for a Year, but Mr. McCormick Was Cured Promptly.

"I had stomach trouble and constipation for five years. One year of this time I was unable to work, suffering untold agony. I doctored with some of the best physicians, but could not find proper medicine, but could not find permanent relief. Finally a friend recommended Milk's Emulsion. The first few doses relieved me greatly, and three bottles of it effected a permanent cure."
—C. A. McCormick, Anderson, Ind.

Mr. McCormick is only one of many hundreds who have endured torture for years and then found that Milk's Emulsion gives blessed relief and real, lasting benefit. It costs nothing to try.
Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.
No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded.
Price 60c and $1.30 per bottle. The Milk-Emulsion Co., Ltd., Haute, Ind. Sold

SERGEANT HERO WILL BRING BODIES BACK

Washington, Dec. 20.—Former Sergeant Willie Sandlin, of Hydon, Ky., today was appointed special escort for the return of soldier dead from overseas by Secretary Baker on recommendation of Major General Rogers.
Sergeant Sandlin was selected for the post because of his unusual record in the world war. Unofficially he ranks next to Sergeant York in his exploits against the enemy, being credited with killing 24 Germans and wounding and capturing many more. Sandlin was awarded the medal of honor. The French Croix de Guerre and the Meday Militaire of Belgium for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy at Bois de Forges, September 25, 1918.
Sergeant Sandlin advanced alone directly on a machine gun nest which was holding up the line with its fire. He killed the crew with a grenade and enabled the line to advance. Later in the day Sergeant Sandlin attacked alone and put out of action two other machine gun nests, setting a splendid example of bravery and coolness to his men.

PERSHING GETS CHILLY RECEPTION IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Thousands of persons braved a below freezing temperature this morning to greet General John J. Pershing upon his arrival for his first visit to Chicago since he went overseas to command the American Expeditionary Forces. Other thousands assembled along the line of march to a downtown hotel when the general's first ceremonial act was bestowed on two gold star mothers, the distinguished service crosses their sons died in gaining in France.
Chicago's tribute to the American commander-in-chief was reserved until the afternoon when General Pershing was to ride at the head of a parade of 10,000 persons through the downtown district. The day's entertainment for General Pershing will end with a banquet for which more than 2,000 invitations were sent out.

The smugglers were attempting to bring a quantity of liquor across the border from Mexico, when they encountered the provost guard and the

FIND PLATINUM AND GOLD IN CANADIAN GRAVEL

Toronto, Dec. 20.—Free gold and platinum has been discovered in gravel beds near Belleville, in Huntingdon township, Hastings county, according to reports published here today. The discoveries are said to have been made on a farm of 100 acres, recently purchased by a contracting firm presumably for the sake of the immense gravel deposits. Several miners have been sent to the farm nearby have been purchased.
There was a gold rush to Madoc, only
